Dear Patriots,

STATEMENT ON PARTY UNITY

As we prepare to reposition our Party, the New Patriotic Party (NPP), we must stay focused on efforts to rebuild and rebrand. Tensions have risen, evident through exchanges on social media. While passionate political discourse is natural, division and hostility only serve to weaken us.

What is required of us all, and in particular the leadership of the party, is to ensure that hope is restored – through unity of purpose, maturity in conduct, and discipline in our ranks – as we canvass for a renewed energy and commitment to the course.

I urge all party members, from the grassroots to the top leadership, to remember what binds us: our shared values, our love for country, and our belief in a thriving Mother Ghana. Now is the time to rise above factions and forge a new path built on collaboration, courage and credibility.

Let us set aside personal differences, engage in constructive discourse, and stay committed to the values that brought us together. This is not just about moving past disagreements—it is about working together, disciplined and united, to build a stronger future for our Party.

With gratitude and resolve,

Dr. Bryan Achéampong
